FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

The theme of banquet that joins our first reading and the gospel is the symbol of the happiness and joy present in the Kingdom of Heaven.

In our first reading, Isaiah reminds the people of Israel and, in fact, all of us of the symbol of this happiness on the holy mountain of God. On this mountain, Isaiah tells us: "The Lord of hosts will provide for all people."

Our gospel reading tells us of the actualization and fulfilment of this prophecy. Even though the kingdom of Heaven had already begun with the coming of Jesus Christ, its full actualization is yet to come. This "not yet dimension of the kingdom of Heaven" explains why we still have so much hatred, so many wars, violence and the destruction of human life all over the world. It, therefore, challenges all of us to play our parts well while waiting for the full realization of the kingdom. In doing so, we are to reflect on what we can do individually and as a parish community to help to promote the kingdom that Isaiah speaks of in our first reading in the hearts of men and women.

We participate in promoting this kingdom by embracing a completely new life, putting our gifts and talents at the service of one another. May the happiness and joy of the kingdom of Heaven be yours now and always.

The God of hosts will provide for all peoples

PARTNERS WITH GOD

God has a To-Do List for you. For me? Yes. For you. You are God's partner. God needs you to continue the ongoing creation of the world. What? Who? Me? I am God's partner? Yes. You are. Because you are made in the image of God. It says so, right at the beginning of the Bible (Gen 1:27). What does it mean to be "made" in the "image" of God? It means that the spark of divinity is within you. And that God brought you into this world for a purpose. The ultimate purpose. This is it: Your purpose is to do God's work. The question has been asked: What on earth are you here for? The answer: To do the tasks that God has for you.

PARISH SURVEY AND LISTENING SESSIONS

RESULTS NOW AVAILABLE

Thank you for your feedback and suggestions offered in response to the parish survey and in the listening sessions. Love for our St. Patrick's Parish community was evident throughout!

A comprehensive list of your suggestions is now available on the parish website at stpatricksbedford.org and there are paper copies at the church entrances and at the parish office in the Cenacle for those who don't have online access.

You will notice that some of your suggestions are already being implemented. Other initiatives need someone to take the lead to get started.
