Reflection on the Scriptures

"... gazing around Him at those seated in the circle..." – Mark 3:34

Jesus came to earth as a Man, and His experience of family was the love flowing through the Holy Family (Luke 2:39-40) and later, through His relatives (Mark 3:31-32). Jesus has an unimaginably rich family history.

Today's Gospel presents an abrupt diversion from Jesus' family experience. Jesus gazes at the crowd seated in the circle around Him (Mark 3:34). These people are "hanging on His words" (Luke 19:48). They seek wisdom, healing, or words of direction from One rather than they (Luke 11:31-32). Suddenly the Master is interrupted by a summons from His family. The people in the crowd immediately realize that their time with Jesus is up. They naturally assume Jesus must attend to family matters and mentally prepare to return home, not knowing if they will ever see Him again. Imagine the look on their faces as Jesus gazes lovingly at them and tells them they are His family, because they are doing the will of God (Mark 3:34-325). Imagine the joy of Jesus in showing with them the never-ending love that flows in His family

At Baptism, you were begotten from above (John 3:3), given a new nature, and adopted into the family of God. You are no longer strangers; you are included in the best family ever. Live our Baptism. Do God's will. Live in His family love (John 15:10)
